- Hook sentences
- Background
- Objective
- Thesis Statement

Literature Review

In order to make your essay reliable, it is better to add the reference to the past research papers. You can use proper in-text citations to give reference.

Body Paragraph

In this body paragraph, add your claims and arguments with evidence. With each claim, provide some evidence in the form of numberings. You can add a new paragraph for every new claim and their respective evidence.

Refuting another Claim

If there is any claim that might be raised against your essay in future, do mention it in advance and provide some evidence regarding it.

Conclusion

The essay must be summarized with only major details and closed.
